Reflections

The Way of the Cross

¹⁷ Do not repay anyone evil for evil, but take thought for what is noble in the sight of all. ¹⁸If it is possible, so far as it depends on you, live peaceably with all. ¹⁹Beloved, never avenge yourselves, but leave room for the wrath of God; for it is written, 'Vengeance is mine, I will repay, says the Lord.' ²⁰No, 'if your enemies are hungry, feed them; if they are thirsty, give them something to drink; for by doing this you will heap burning coals on their heads.' ²¹Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good.

Romans 12:17-21

We live in a time of great violence. Between the shooting in Orlando, in which victims were killed and wounded because they were in the wrong place at the wrong time, to the vicious rhetoric that has followed, we are seeing a constant presence of anger and hostility breaking out in senseless violence and loss. So do you want to do something about it? Then we will have to begin with ourselves.

Complaining has not been effective in bringing any improvements. We can see many examples of retaliation leading to more retaliation and hostility breeding more hostility. Standing by passively, allowing these things to happen has had no positive affects either. The only way to make a difference will require that we change; our growth as people, strong enough in their relationship with Christ, to create peace in the world around them. This is part of the process in which we are engaging, as a congregation, as we participate in the training and programs being led by the Lombard Mennonite Peace Center.

The Apostle Paul clearly lays out how Christians respond to hostility and violence - through loving our enemies with the love of Christ Jesus. Remember, Jesus offered himself as a sacrifice for people who weren't worthy of the grace and compassion offered (including ourselves). Jesus offered forgiveness from the cross. This was not a passive, letting the people do whatever they wanted till they got it out of their system; this was a powerful act of healing love. Those who are followers of the teachings of Jesus will sense a call to act in the same, transforming way. We are not called to be passive and inert, nor are we called to retaliate or lash out. We are called to reply in creative, healing, and profound love. This effective response to violence does not come from an undisciplined heart.

Disciplining our hearts (and thereby affecting what comes out of our mouths) requires work and practice. The work of developing our skills as Christians will be an essential part of our growth and work together, in the upcoming workshops. Disciplining our hearts is also one of the most needed disciplines in this time - in our community, in our families, in our church, and throughout the world. If we take our call seriously, to be Christians and to serve Christ, we will take this opportunity to grow as those who are able to share God's peace.

It is so easy to engage in retaliation, to allow our own hostility to boil and fester, or to blow in hostile words or actions. It is hard work to learn not to just dwell in our hostility and to know how we can make a difference that reflects the love of Jesus. However, this is our call as Christians, growing humbly in faith; reaching out in love. We look forward to the fruit God is going to produce in our lives together and in the world around us as we work to serve Christ.

Peace,

Pastor Jack

Coming Up in Worship - June

6/19/2016 What are We Leaving Behind?

Sermon: Running Away from Ourselves

Theme: We struggle with wanting to be free of those things that close in around us that call us to growth but it is in opening ourselves to God that we begin to wrestle with what needs to change.

Purpose: The congregation will begin to open themselves to risks and change of growth.

Scriptures: Mark 8:34-37 What does it profit a person to gain the world and lose his life.
Those who lose will find it.
Genesis 32:22-32 Jacob wrestles with the angel as he anticipates meeting his brother and his past.

Questions:

What are the issues and challenges that you wrestle with at night? What are you going to have to face at some time about yourself? What parts of your life do we need to loose so that we may find our lives? What are the places where we are resistant to change? What keeps us from being willing to risk growing and being transformed by God's work? What do we need to release in order to be able to really live?

6/26/2016 What are we Heading Towards?

Sermon: Hungry Hearts and Thirsty Souls

Theme: Our hunger and thirst for what will have meaning and purpose forces us to move from stagnancy to taking risks.

Purpose: The congregation will be aware of their hunger for God and open to new direction to reach it.

Scriptures: 1 Peter 2:1-12 Longing for the spiritual milk, the stone that was rejected
John 6:26-35 Jesus the bread of life that satisfies hunger

Questions:

What is not fitting in our lives at this time? What are we hungry and thirsting for? What spiritual needs have been going unfilled? What needs to change so that we may be able to put our health in relationships with God, and the people we love ahead of the meaningless things that dominate our lives? What are the stones we have rejected that we should have made central? What are the ways in which we have allowed our identity and purpose to be lost to less important distractions?

Coming Up in Worship - July

7/3/2016 Trust God on the Way

Sermon: God's Travel Plans

Theme: We learn to walk in trust of God's travel plans rather than obsessed with our worries or need for control.

Purpose: The congregation will reaffirm that God will care for all our needs, if we will follow faithfully.

Scriptures: Deuteronomy 29:2-6 God cared for your needs
Matthew 6:24-34 Seek first the Kingdom of God, do not serve money.
Trust God.

Questions:

What does it mean to trust God to fill our needs? Is it practical to depend upon God to fill our needs? Is it practical to spend all of our time fretting and worrying? What did it mean that God provided all that was needed for those who were wandering in the desert? How can we learn to grow in our trust in God? Does trusting God mean we feel confident and secure? Or are we constantly having to deal with our insecurities and anxieties even when we do trust God? In what ways does being a mature Christian result in healthy freedom from being dominated by fear?

7/10/2016 Wrong Turns
Sermon: "Wrong Turns - Part of the Journey"
Theme: God works through us along the way so that we may be transformed, instructed, and renewed as we follow God's leading.
Purpose: The congregation will understand that we are changed by God's call to open our hearts and listen.
Scriptures: Jonah 1:1-17 Jonah called to go to Nineveh, and he chooses to disobey God.
 Matthew 3:1-12 John the Baptist preaches repentance and baptism.

Questions:

What does it mean to be obedient to God? Is God looking for people who are perfect at following all of the laws and rules that have been given to us? Or is God looking for people who are wanting to use their own intelligence and creativity to follow God? What difference did it make to God that Jonah chose not to go where God was sending him? Why did God continue to work with Jonah and his obedience rather than simply get a different prophet who would be less stubborn? What does it mean to us that God calls us to repentance and to aligning our hearts with our actions?

7/17/2016 Mountain Tops
Sermon: "Amazed by the View"
Theme: God gives us moments which put our pilgrimage into perspective so that we may be better prepared for hardships and expectations which are to come.
Purpose: The congregation will put spiritual high experiences in perspective rather than constantly gauging their faith by experience.
Scriptures: 2 Corinthians 12:1-10 Paul speaks about his powerful spiritual experience coupled with his unanswered prayer.
 Mark 9:1-10 Disciples encounter Jesus transfigured before them.

Questions:

Should we rejoice and take joy in those moments when we recognize how far we have come in our growth in faith? Is it false pride or giving praise to God when we appreciate the growth and maturity that has developed in our lives? How do we balance appreciation of the spiritual highs that we have known, with dedication to faithfulness regardless of how we may feel at the time? How do we respond to our "mountain top" experiences? Who can we talk to about the wonderful moments when we have felt God's presence? What difference does it make to our life in Christ as we recognize and appreciate those joyful and uplifting experiences?

7/24/2016 Fellow Travelers
Sermon: "Knowing God Through Those Around Us"
Theme: On our pilgrimage we come to know God through the people whom we meet along the way, both those whom we are called to serve, and those who serve us.
Purpose: The congregation will be conscious of how their relationships with the people around them shapes their relationship with God.
Scriptures: 1 John 1:1-10 We fellowship more than just with other people, but with God in our conversations with other people (light and darkness).
 Matthew 22:35-40 We learn the law of God in context of loving our neighbor, and of faithfulness to God.

Questions:

Is our faith journey a solo or do the people whom God places around us matter? Can we have healthy spiritual growth without healthy relationships with family, friends, and other people of God? In what ways is growth in Christ dependent on our growth in relationships with others? What role does forgiveness, acceptance, and love for others play in our relationship with God? In what ways do we need to be conscious about growing in our relationship with Christ in order to be healthy and the people who are around us?

7/31/2016 Lost Luggage
Sermon: "Making Peace with Loss"
Theme: The pilgrimage of grief is the process of knowing God in the midst of our changes and lack of control, which opens us to a new appreciation of God's presence.
Purpose: The congregation will focus on their need to process loss as a part of the journey of grief and maturing in Christ.
Scriptures: Luke 12:1-7 Live your faith honestly, do not fear the things you may lose, know that God knows and loves you.
 Job 3:1-4, 11-16; 42:1-6 Job prays a prayer of despair. Job prays with understanding of God's power and presence.

Questions:

How do we grow through the pilgrimage of loss and grief? In what ways does that pilgrimage change our relationship with God and with the people around us? Is loss and sadness a condition that needs to be treated or a part of the process of growing in faith and wisdom? What needs to change so that we may grow to be joyful and wise in the midst of loss? How do we develop our relationship with Christ so that we may know what is important when we are struggling through times of deep sadness?

Coming Up in Worship - August

8/7/2016 The Food On the Trip Communion
Sermon: "Bread for the Journey"
Theme: In the sacrament of the Lord's Supper our pilgrimage is nourished by Christ's presence as we gather with those who are faithful and willing to live by the guidance of Christ's love.
Purpose: The congregation will examine their relationships with God and with one another in receiving the sacrament of the Lord's Supper.
Scriptures: 1 Corinthians 11:17-34 Paul condemns the practices of hypocrisy and division at the sacrament of the Lord's Supper.
 Luke 24:13-35 Jesus is made known to the disciples in the breaking of the bread.

Questions:

What role does worship and the sacrament of communion play in our spiritual growth? Can a Christian grow to be healthy and mature if they are not participating in worship with a community of believers nor taking part in the nourishment of the soul in communion? What leads to hypocrisy and divisiveness in the sacraments of communion? What can we do to learn peace, reconciliation, and healing through our pilgrimage of worship and fellowship together? What do we need to do in order to be healthy Christians who live and abide in God's love?

Elder/Deacon Nominations

Youth Elder

First Presbyterian Church has an opening on Session for a Youth Elder. A youth elder is someone currently 18 years old or younger who has been confirmed in the church. Youth elders are ordained as an elder on Session with all of the authority and responsibilities of being an elder. Youth Elders serve a one-year term, with the option of re-election to additional terms. If you know of someone for whom this sounds like an opportunity to grow in gifts and abilities, please pass the message along to the office. You can also download the application from the website.

Elder and Deacon Nominations

The Nominating Team is beginning their work of seeking nominations for Elder and Deacons. Elders and Deacons need to be active members in good standing with the church. They need to be mature Christians who are gifted for reaching out in love and sharing Christ in the world.

Elders focus on leading the church and developing the ministries of First Presbyterian Church. Deacons extend the love and care of Jesus to all in need and further the hospitality of the church. If you know someone who would be able to use their gifts to serve in this way please pass the information along to the office, or to Cathy Wolfe, Barbara Mitchell, Tim St. John, Mary Bacon, Carol Wetzel, or Dick Sleder.
