God's Call to Practice Love

13:1 If I speak in the tongues of mortals and of angels, but do not have love, I am a noisy gong or a clanging cymbal. ...

4 Love is patient; love is kind; love is not envious or boastful or arrogant⁵ or rude. It does not insist on its own way; it is not irritable or resentful;⁶ it does not rejoice in wrong doing, but rejoices in the truth. ⁷It bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things.

1 Corinthians 13:1, 4-7

The real challenge, with The Apostle Paul's teaching about love, is taking the love commandment seriously, a practice that determines whether we are serious about following Christ. For the countless times this passage has been read at weddings, discussed among youth groups, and read in worship, there is a tendency to ooh and ahh over the lovely language and sentiment, we don't really consider what is being told to us about our relationship with God, wisdom and with one another.

First, The Apostle Paul states that without the practice of love, as taught to us by Jesus, nothing we do really matters. Nothing we say is correct if it isn't spoken with love for the person to whom we are speaking. Nothing that is taught, instructed, or declared; no wisdom or prophecy is correct if it is not coming from love.

Compounding that first point is the fact that love is not necessarily a warm feeling, nor is it easy. Going down the list: patient, kind, not envious, boastful, arrogant, or rude... and it's not very far before we realize that we frequently fail to practice the love that Paul is teaching. Real love requires willingness to work towards seeing Christ in every person. Real love means that we speak our truth, but we do so with a constant goal of what is good for everyone. Defensiveness, resentment, retaliation, and hostility have no place in our communication. That pretty much incorporates a lot of the communication that dominates our society today. Complaint, ridicule, personal attacks, and accusations don't fit with what God is saying to us about love.

So, does that mean we are defenseless? Not at all. It does mean, however, that we are going to be spending a lot more time in prayer, discernment and seeking to affirm our truth without attacking, being resentful, or hostile. It means that we may not want to be friends with the person with whom we have had conflict, but we will still seek what is best for them.

So why do this? Because as the passage says, what we do in love is all that will really matter in the end. If we want wisdom, and doing what will have meaning and will last, we will do so with love. If it's any comfort, The Apostle Paul struggled with relationships himself. Fortunately, God's love for us is constant and full of grace for our shortcomings. On the other hand, the degree to which we can enjoy the blessings of the kingdom and the fullness of God's peace is dependent on how much work we are prepared to do to practice God's love.

Opportunities to learn seem to come around frequently. If you fail, don't worry, God will tee the same type of situation again and you'll get another shot at it. This is what makes the Kingdom of God and fullness of God's reign possible. We should work at practicing God's love now, so we can enjoy it all of eternity.

Peace,

Pastor Jack

Coming Up in Worship

2/3/2019 Communion Souperbowl of Caring
Sermon: "We Are Called to Love"
Theme: The people of God learn to put love first as they offer a message of healing that the world does not understand.
Purpose: To learn love with the power of humility.
Scriptures: 1 Corinthians 13:1-13 Love is patient, kind, never boastful or rude.
 Luke 4:21-30 Doubtless you will say to me, "Physician, heal thyself." Jesus confronts unbelief among his own community.

Questions:

What does it mean to truly love as God commands us to love? What does it mean to love with humility, compassion, and grace? In what ways does love call us to seek healing and reconciliation for others? How do we learn to practice loving in a way that shines light of hope to the world? In what ways are Paul's teachings of love in 1 Corinthians 13 a challenge for Christians to demonstrate their knowledge of God in all relationships?

2/10/2019 Chaplain Darren Beachy Preaching

2/17/2019

Sermon: "Emptiness and Fullness"
Theme: Only through being filled with the knowledge of God will we have a message and light that will be sustained and valuable.
Purpose: The congregation will reflect on what leads to satisfaction and fulfillment in their lives and what we then share with the world about what matters.
Scriptures: Psalm 1 Those who follow the law of the Lord are like trees planted by streams.
 Luke 6:17-26 Blessings to those who have known poverty and hunger because they have roots in the knowledge of God.

Questions:

What brings us real fulfillment and peace? How does focusing on what really matters affect our way of living from day to day? In what ways do we find strength and energy in our relationship with God and our relationships with one another? How do we learn to mediate on God's law and draw strength from God's Word? What do we need to do in order to not become obsessed with the things we are lacking? How do we become people who are filled by God's love and Holy Spirit?

2/24/2019

Sermon: "Love that Makes a Difference"
Theme: Our knowledge of God and God's law gives us a lamp that shines brighter as we encounter hostility and conflicts.
Purpose: Congregation members will focus on letting go of grievances in order to be part of God's work of renewal in the world around them.
Scriptures: Psalm 37:1-11, 39-40 Do not fret about the evil doers but allow the law of God to become your refuge.
 Luke 6:27-38 Love your enemies, do good to those who hate you, do not practice judgment.

Questions:

How can we possibly authentically learn to love our enemies and do good to the people who hate us? How do we find freedom from our resentments, suspicions, and fears of people who have hurt us in the past? What does it really mean to have relationships of practicing Jesus' love for people we don't like? In what ways does the love of Christ by-pass our feelings and open abilities to live in grace and freedom rather than being driven by our fears and other emotions? How do we work to make this a reality in our daily lives?

Season of Lent: A time for discovering who God's love enables us to be and then to choose to live in the fullness of God's love, grace, and freedom.

3/3/2019 Communion Transfiguration Sunday

Sermon: "Listen to Him"

Theme: We are transformed and renewed through the power of the lamp of Christ's love and presence.

Purpose: The congregation will reflect on what they can do to be more open to hearing and dwelling in Christ's presence in their lives.

Scriptures: Exodus 34:29-35 Moses' face shone as he spoke with God and became a light that shone in his face.

 Luke 9:28-43 The transfiguration, and the message that shines to the world that is greater than ourselves.

Questions:

What does it mean to us to listen to the voice of Jesus? What impact does it have on us to experience the awe and glory of Jesus? How does it change our perspective to see Jesus' divinity and authority? How does a limited perspective of Jesus' power limit us? What do we need to do in order to authentically know the majesty and power of God in Jesus?

3/10/2019 1st Sunday of Lent

Sermon: "Who Are You Really?"

Theme: We are invited to allow Lent to be a season of discovering God's love and grace for us individually and as the people of God together.

Purpose: The congregation will commit to seeking to deepen their relationship with God through Lent.

Scriptures: Romans 10:8-13 Confess with your lips Jesus is Lord, believe in your heart, and God who receives all will save you.

 Luke 4:1-13 Temptation of Jesus, questioning what it means that he is the Son of God.

Questions:

Do you think of yourself as a beloved child of God? Does God's love and approval of you enable you to see yourself differently? Do you know what it means to have confidence in your value and place in the world because of God's love for you? How do we go about shaping our thinking of ourselves around God's love for us? How do we become people who are joyfully living as God's chosen?

3/17/2019 2nd Sunday of Lent

Sermon: "Choosing the Cross"

Theme: Through prayer and focusing on God's love we learn to choose the love and healing of the cross over our own defensiveness and bitterness.

Purpose: The congregation will work to live and express the grace of God.

Scriptures: Philippians 3:17-4:1 "Enemies of the cross," those who set their own wants and issues above their relationships with Christ and with the body of Christ.

Luke 13:31-35 Jesus is warned by the Pharisees of Herod's intent to kill him. Jesus mourns the division between the people and God.

Questions:

What does it mean to be an enemy of the cross? How is it we are entangled in resentments and conflicts? From where does our animosity and bitterness arise? How is it we allow grievances to dominate the way we see ourselves and our relationships? How do we live without participating in the divisiveness and bitterness of the world? How can we have freedom to daily live in love and acceptance for all who are around us?

3/24/2019 3rd Sunday of Lent

Sermon: "Choosing: Fear or Joy?"

Theme: God's people must practice choosing to live in the love and joy of God rather than to be pulled into fear, grievances, and despair.

Purpose: The congregation will reflect on daily practices to choose serving Christ over dwelling in fear and worry.

Scriptures: Isaiah 55:1-9 Why do you spend your money on that which does not satisfy? Seek the Lord and know his ways.

Luke 13:1-9 Galileans speak of the atrocities committed against them, Jesus tells the parable of the fig tree bearing fruit.

Questions:

Why do we spend so much of our time and energy on things that are meaningless? How is it that we become caught up in things that do not matter? What is the impact upon our relationship with God when senseless disasters and atrocities take place? How do we live in the healing and renewal of Christ Jesus rather than in the grief, hostility, and resentments of unresolved past hurts? What can we do to help others be part of what truly bears fruit rather than caught up in what does not add to anyone's life?

Christians Serving, Learning and Loving

3/31/2019 4th Sunday of Lent

- Sermon: "Choosing: The Past or the Future?"
- Theme: God invites us to lay aside our past history and accounts against one another and to instead extend grace to one another.
- Purpose: The congregation will intentionally practice grace and forgiveness rather than holding onto the grievances of the past.
- Scriptures: 2 Corinthians 5:16-21 We no longer regard others from a human point of view, all have become new in Christ.
- Luke 15:1-3, 11-32 The parable of the Prodigal Son and the older brother, a story of forgiveness and struggling to choose love over resentment.

Questions:

What does it mean for us to cease to see people from a human point of view? How do we open our minds and hearts to seeing people differently? Does forgiveness mean that we allow others to take advantage of us? How do we practice grace and forgiveness while at the same time recognizing healthy boundaries and wisdom in relationships? How is the story of the Prodigal Son a story of God's grace and our need to develop healthy relationships?

4/7/2019 Communion, 5th Sunday of Lent

- Sermon: "Choosing to Let Go"
- Theme: We are gifted with freedom from our past as we sacrifice our past hurts and stories in order to enjoy the gifts of God's love today.
- Purpose: The congregation will embrace the gifts of God's grace and let go of the past losses and hurts that props up their egos.
- Scriptures: Philippians 3:4b-14 All things that were accomplishments are meaningless in perspective of the surpassing gift of the knowledge of Jesus Christ as Lord.
- John 12:1-8 Mary anoints Jesus' feet, and the disciples do not understand her sacrifice of love and appreciation.

Questions:

In what ways do our fears from the past and memories of hurt influence our view of ourselves and others? How can we let go of the stories we tell ourselves about our past which shape our hurt and resentment? In what ways do we allow our issues and unforgiveness to dominate our relationship with God and with one another? What would be different if instead of living out of our past hurts, we were joyfully willing to receive Christ's love in the present?

Per Capita

In the Presbyterian Church USA system of governance, each member of the congregation is assessed a per capita amount to support the work of the church through its three governing levels. The per capita money is divided as follows:

- Winnebago Presbytery - 66%
- Synod of Lakes & Prairies - 14%
- General Assembly (the national ruling body) - 20%

This per capita covers the cost of operating these three separate entities, various committees and commissions, along with funding the annual General Assembly Meeting.

Our congregation has supported this assessment as an appropriate way to assist in helping to meet the needs of our denomination.

This year, the per capita amount is $37.00 for each church member. First Presbyterian Church will pay this amount regardless of whether you contribute. The per capita amount is a separate charge from the money you have pledged, to the church, for its operations.

You can pay your per capita amount in the following manner:

- Check (designate the check as Per capita)
- Cash (put in an envelope marked Per capita)
- Through our website: www.fdlpresbyterian.org (click online giving)

Thank you for prayerfully considering the opportunity to help First Presbyterian Church and the Presbyterian Church USA system. We appreciate your generosity.

PER CAPITA is “the tie that binds” - annual support that unites the entire church in the ongoing and essential work that guides the Office of the General Assembly, the life of the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) and benefits every congregation and every mid council ministry.

Empowered by the Holy Spirit, the Office of the General Assembly encourages the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) to be a people of hope:

- Seeking together the mind of Christ;
- Working for justice and mercy in the world; and
- Participating in God’s continual reformation of the church
